

JURY HAS GREAT CASE

As to Guilt or Innocence of Wm. D. Haywood

ACCUSED OF CONSPIRING

To Murder Ex-Governor Steunenberg Who Was Killed by a Bomb Two Years Ago Near His Home.

Boise, Idaho, July 27.—It is now left for the jury to say whether or not William D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, is guilty of participating in a criminal conspiracy to assassinate ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, who was killed by a bomb at his home in Caldwell on December 30, 1905. The final words by the attorneys were spoken last night when United States Senator Borah who was engaged by the prosecution, finished his argument. The trial was attended by a very large audience last night, several hundred being barred out and taking their places under the windows to catch the words of the speakers.

"Watch these five men—Simkins, Orchard, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, Steunenberg is to die in thirty days. Watch them. We have got them together. They are moving to the scene." This was the dramatic climax reached yesterday forenoon in the Haywood trial, when for an hour and a half Senator Borah, making the last argument in the Haywood case, had woven craftily on the mesh of his net. The "them" was conspiracy—the essence of the case of the State of Idaho in its efforts to show that Harry Orchard was only the tool of Haywood when he killed the former governor.

Under it all, Haywood was perhaps, the one man in the room who showed the least emotion. At times his face flushed, and more than once he paled under the attack as Senator Borah, reaching the climax of the conspiracies pointed an accusing finger at the man who he said "was the criminal force behind the Western Federation of Miners."

Mrs. Steunenberg, widow of the murdered governor, attended the morning session, but left early, almost prostrated by the emotion awakened by Mr. Borah's vivid oratory. Haywood's mother also left the court room in tears, but soon returned to take her accustomed place beside the invalid wife of the defendant.

MILKMAIDS SPY UPON THE CZAR

Their Espionage Said to Have Aided Plotters Against the Life of Nicholas.

St. Petersburg, July 27.—The authorities will soon be in a position, as a result of their investigations to issue indictments in the matter of the recent plot against the life of Emperor Nicholas.

It is now known that women took the leading parts in this conspiracy. The principals, the police say, are Madame Feodorovna, wife of a well-known St. Petersburg lawyer; a woman called "Comrade Nina," alias Petrova, who took the most prominent part in the activities and who succeeded in making her escape to a foreign country; Boris Nikitenko, a retired naval lieutenant; Naumoff, a mail clerk; M. Emme, an instructor in the Imperial Lyceum, and three lawyers, Brunsow, Chibrikoff and Savadsky.

The man actually chosen to kill the Emperor is named Klossovsky. The plan of the conspirators, the police assert was to have this individual make his way into the presence of the Emperor while clad in the uniform of a sergeant of the Imperial Cavalry.

The indictments detail the various stratagems employed by the plotters to obtain the desired information of the habits and movements of the Emperor and show that espionage to this end was conducted in part through the medium of milkmaids who supplied the royal kitchen.

MATRIMONIAL "AD" LEADS TO WEDDING

Kentucky Colonel Wrote So Well He Won Spinster in Connecticut.

Madison, Ct., July 27.—Julia Adelia Wilcox, spinster, romantically began a matrimonial "ad" correspondence last winter with Colonel Sam Dibble of San Antonio, Tex. She liked his letters so much that she agreed to marry him if he would come north and talk to her as well as he wrote.

He arrived last week and pointed his eligible points as well as the old wells he says he owns, and the day after his arrival Miss Wilcox agreed to marry him. Colonel Dibble insisted on an early wedding, and the ceremony was performed today. The couple took an express for Texas amid a shower of old shoes and a drum corps serenade in which half the town took place.

EIGHT DROWN.

EDDY MASTERS OPEN HEARING.

Counsel Are Given Time For Preparation.

Concord, N. H., July 27.—The masters appointed by the Superior Court to determine the competency of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Christian Science leader, in relation to the suit brought by her relatives, as next friends, held their first session at the Merrimack county court house yesterday. Frank S. Streeter, of Mrs. Eddy's counsel, said that his client was in her eighty-seventh year, and had already been compelled to submit to several months' annoyance by reason of the litigation, and he therefore demanded a speedy hearing of the issue.

William E. Chandler, counsel for Mrs. Eddy's son, informed the court that the evidence was all in the hands of persons hostile to his client, and that he wished to take their deposition in preparation for the hearing by the masters. The masters decided that reasonable time should be allowed for the preparation of the case by counsel, and ruled that in order to bring the suit up to date in the master's court, the record of the case thus far should be read to the masters at an afternoon session today. This session was fixed at 2.30 o'clock, at which time the original and supplemental bills in equity, on which the suit is founded, the rejoinders, and all other documents filed with the superior court, were produced and read in full.

RICH GOLD VEIN.

Discovered at Leadville Which Promises Very Well.

Denver, Colo., July 27.—One of a grade so nearly pure gold that state history records nothing to approach it has been discovered on the 10th level of a mine at Leadville within the last few days, and when the assays are completed it is asserted that the figures will show a mineral wealth almost beyond credibility.

Tuesday 20 sacks of ore were taken out that are expected to run $100 to the pound in gold, or $200,000 to the ton. It was expected that $300,000 worth of ore would be sacked yesterday and today.

A vein of this ore 20 inches wide makes the new strike the richest in mining history anywhere in the world.

SLASHES 5 GIRLS WITH A KNIFE

Fleat At Large in Berlin. Victims All Children. One Dead.

Berlin, July 27.—An atrocious criminal made his appearance on the streets of this city yesterday and five little girls were his victims. The man approached the children on the streets, and by a deft stroke ripped open their stomachs with a knife. One of the children is dead. Each crime was committed in a different locality in the northern and eastern parts of the city. The criminal has, up to the present time, escaped capture. He is presumed to be a madman.

The entire police force of the city is aroused and is making every effort to capture the man and prevent the commission of further outrages.

The criminal approached his victims rapidly, one after another. He would seize a child with one hand and gash her rapidly with the other.

CUBAN ELECTIONS DELAYED.

Cannot Now Be Held Until Sometime Next Year.

Havana, July 27.—The Cuban elections, it is now generally conceded, cannot be held this year. Secretary Taft had hoped to hold municipal elections in September or October, but it is found that the census, which must be completed before the elections, cannot be finished until late in the fall. The elections, in consequence, cannot be held until January or February. The situation so far as the elections are concerned, is disappointing to Cubans generally.

SMELTER MAY FALL THROUGH.

Sinking of Ground Causes Closing of Plant at Jerome, Ariz.

Prescott, Ariz., July 27.—The United Verde smelter at Jerome, Ariz., is closed down on account of the sinking of the ground upon which it is built. Reports from there are to the effect that the shutdown is only temporary, but considerable uneasiness is felt, as the smelter is built over underground workings of a great copper deposit.

Fear is expressed that the plant may fall through. It has been sinking more or less for the last five years.

TO PRAY FOR RAIN: CROPS NEAR RUIN.

Long Island Farmers Alarmed by a Drought of 30 Days.

Eastport, L. I., July 27.—The long drought, which has continued practically unbroken for a month on Long Island, is causing the farmers much alarm. Prayer meetings for the purpose of invoking rain are to be held in the churches.

The potato crop in many cases are beyond help, while vegetable gardens are rapidly dying up.

Should there be no rain within another week many farmers will utterly abandon hope of gathering more than very slim crops.

The mile was done in 2:03 3/4.

The second heat was a repetition of the first in slower time. In the third Angus Pointer tried to win from second position, but Baron Grattan stepped away from him when called upon, ending it in easy style. Angus Pointer had been the betting choice at even money over the field.

The Chicago wife has not heard from the captain in nine years. She is living with her two children. If Mr. Stoll has any wives in New York, he is a bigamist, for he is still my husband," declared Mrs. Lucille Stoll. "He left me nine years ago, but we have never been divorced."

BODY WAS FOUND IN LAKE CHAMPLAIN

Mystery About Hiram Merrihew's Disappearance Partially Cleared Up But Details of Drowning Not Known.

Burlington, July 27.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Hiram Merrihew of South Burlington was partially cleared up by the finding of his body floating inside the breakwater of Lake Champlain yesterday. How he happened to meet his death is still unsolved, whether by the capsizing or burning of his launch or in what way. The oars and other belongings of Mr. Merrihew were found the other day washed up on the breakwater.

There were no marks or bruises on the body, but it was bloated almost beyond recognition, indicating that it had been in the water some time. In his pockets was found $5 in bills and some change. His watch had stopped at five minutes past one o'clock.

It is known that Mr. Merrihew left home in South Burlington Wednesday July 17, and went to Queen City park, from where he started in his gasoline launch, a very high affair in a few days' camp at Lake's island, having left word he would return last Sunday. Friday afternoon, a week ago yesterday, Mr. Merrihew's can of provision, and a pair of oars were found on the breakwater, evidently having been washed up from this side. These articles were identified by Mr. Merrihew's sons last Monday. It was ascertained after further investigation by Mr. Merrihew's sons that their father reached Lake's island safely on Wednesday, as he had planned, and that he had left for home on Thursday morning as he did not find the friends he was expecting at the island.

There seems no reasonable theory why he should have been drowned inside the breakwater, for there was no evident reason why he should have been there at all. The complete disappearance of the launch also makes puzzling any further attempts at the solution of the affair.

Mr. Merrihew was born 53 years ago March 3 last in West Chazy, N. Y. He came to South Burlington at the age of 14 and had resided there since. He was a well known market gardener for more than 25 years. He was always actively interested in the affairs of the town and was honored with nearly every office in the gift of his fellow townsmen, representing South Burlington in the legislature in 1896, and having been school director and selectman.

Mr. Merrihew is survived by his wife and nine children.

HAYING ON LARGE SCALE.

Expect to Cut 1,500 Tons at Webb's Country Farm.

Burlington, July 27.—Haying is in full blast at Shelburne farms, the estate of Dr. W. Seward Webb at Shelburne, six miles out of this city, and while the crop is not so heavy as in recent years and it is also two weeks late in being harvested, the aggregate will reach something like 1,500 tons. This will be cut from about 200 acres of much smaller acreage than has been cut over for some years. The decrease is due in part to the large number of spruce and pine trees and shrubs that have been set out along the hillside and tops of many of the large knolls producing a picturesque effect desired by the owner and also contributing to the future requirements for wood and lumber.

RESPONDENT DISCHARGED

No Breach of Peace Found Against Bruno

AT THE ITALIAN PICNIC

Case Finished Last Night After Trial Lasting Two Days and Three Companion Cases Will Probably Be Dropped.

after a two days' session in the city court the case charging Verdo Bruno with breach of the peace was closed just before six o'clock last evening when the jury, after a half hour's deliberation, returned a verdict of not guilty through its foreman, W. A. Perry.

Bruno testified that he did not go near Bianchi until he fired the revolver, and then only to wrestle the weapon from him that he went back to his team then. Verdo Bruno was the last man who testified for the defense and his statements were practically the same as those of the other witnesses in regard to the fracas. He said that he heard that Bianchi shot a man in Massachusetts and that he shot at some Germans in East Barre.

The revolver was produced in court and Bruno identified it as the weapon which he took from Bianchi. Chief of Police David Faulkner said that the revolver was in the same condition as when Bruno turned it over to him and that one chamber had been fired at that time.

This ended the witnesses for the defense. Charles Maffini was recalled in rebuttal and stated that Bianchi did not make any threats against anyone to him. Joseph Bianchi was recalled and stated that he did not threaten to "fix" anyone. Jennie Brown said that she heard Bianchi tell Hamel that Bruno struck him. Joseph Bianchi was recalled and stated that he did not tell Hamel that Bruno did not strike him.

The evidence being all in, Grand Juror E. R. Davis pleaded for a conviction on grounds of unseemable statements of the witnesses, the discrepancies in their stories, and stated that most of the witnesses were interested parties.

He said that the members of the party at the picnic were prejudiced against Bianchi and that he thought Officer Hamel was mistaken when he said that Bianchi told him that Bruno did not strike him.

John N. Harvey opened for the defense and his first inquiry was why Bianchi went to the picnic with the loaded revolver in his pocket if he was not expecting trouble.

He said that according to the evidence Bianchi had threatened to slap Cressi's face, that he had insulted the Italian women, and that according to Bianchi's statement Bruno was not near him until the shot was fired. He mentioned the fact that Bianchi was a self-confessed criminal and said that the evidence did not show that Bruno had broken any law in taking the revolver away from him.

Mr. Harvey was followed by M. M. Gordon for the defense, who covered nearly the same ground.

William Wishart made the closing plea upon the same ground as that outlined by Grand Juror Davis in the opening.

About 30 witnesses were used in the trial altogether, 23 having been subpoenaed by the state and five attorneys took part, including Grand Juror E. R. Davis, States Attorney, Ben Gates, Wm. Wishart for the prosecution and M. M. Gordon and John Harvey for the defense.

The companion cases against J. Ed. Cass and Joseph Saggi were not pressed today. The case against Joseph Bianchi, who was alleged to have been assaulted, is still on the docket, and it is uncertain what will be done with it.
